

WEMOVO is a Berlin based technology company that offers a web and mobile software for bus companies. With our software we digitize bus companies, help them to manage their business, reducing costs and improving revenues.

Today, almost 200 bus companies, among others, the two market leaders Eurolines Switzerland and ALSA from Spain, use our products. In addition, almost 4,000 digital and stationary travel agencies use our technology to sell bus tickets around the world to consumers. Established in Germany, we want to grow our business in the Balkans in the next few months and are looking for YOU.

Mobile Developer for iOS and Android (m/w)

immediately, permanent employment, Full-time

We are looking for a motivated Mobile Developer, who actively participates in the further expansion of our partner network and promotes the expansion of the team. You will be based in our Balkan Headquarter in Skopje.

Your tasks

- Software Engineering with main focus on mobile development for Android + iOS
- Improve and update our web and mobile solutions for bus operators
- Being integrated in the whole development cycle; including planning, designing, implementation, testing and deployment processes

Your profile

- BSc degree in Computer Science or related technical field
- Good programming skills in Javascript, Android and iOS frameworks
- At least one year of professional experience object oriented programming language
- You care about code quality and testing
- Understanding of software products and digital business models
- Fluent English spoken and written

Bonus Points

- Experience using RESTful APIs
- Experience in UI/UX design
- Experience in the travel, tourism or transportation industry
- Experience with Microsoft mobile development.

What we offer!

- Liberal and enriching environment for software development
- An international team that challenges you to find the best possible solution
- A highly motivated team, on-site coaching, face-to-face reviews, team events
- A modern and friendly environment, Start-Up feeling and additional benefits
- A safe and very attractive salary package
- Any other Wemovo office benefits

Interested? Apply now!

Please send your application in English via our recruitment site <https://wemovo.recruitee.com>. That should contain a Portfolio or CV or if you have a "GitHub" account. Please tell us your next possible starting date and salary expectations. For any questions please contact Matthias Spanic, Tel. +40 (0) 30 555 70 80 21.

Further information about WEMOVO under: www.wemovo.com.